NOTICE

All faculty members and students are hereby notified that HMMCW is committed to fostering research and innovation by regularly offering grants for approved projects.

The Research and Development Cell (RDC) at HMMCW encourages all faculty members and students to submit research proposals, whether individually or in collaboration with others.

The RDC is committed to supporting innovative research initiatives and welcomes submissions that align with its objectives. Participation in this initiative is highly valued, as it contributes to the overall research culture within the institution. Proposals can be submitted following the established research format and guidelines, and the RDC's convenor, Dr. Lipika Mulcik is available to assist with any questions or clarifications regarding the submission process. Your contributions are essential for advancing our research goals and fostering a vibrant academic environment.

Please ensure that all proposals are completed in accordance with the provided format and submitted by December 15, 2024.
